My dear Brother Clark,

I greatly appreciated your letter of August 4 giving me so much information that is helpful concerning the background and formation of your "Life Origins Foundation." You have answered my questions so fully. This I appreciate. I am especially glad to get word concerning the backgrounds and attitudes of the various men. I note that you did omit certain men from your group and I presume there is good reason for this.

I am sending you a copy of Movement of Destiny. I hope most sincerely that you will read this carefully, for I believe this will give you a background of denominational relationships and attitudes that will be a very definite help to you in your present problem. I do not, of course, deal with that in Movement of Destiny but with the diverted views over the nature of Christ, and the Godhead, and the Holy Spirit, and the relation of the Atonement to the Cross, that has had to be rectified before we were to be prepared to go before the world.

I have wondered if there are certain other men in your group that ought to have this book, men that would read with open minds. This volume has had a remarkable reception out to the ends of the earth. The second printing is pretty well exhausted. The first was 7,500, the second 5,000.

I notice that you did omit Gentry from your group. I have wondered why. He, I believe, is a good man and sound. He is better known, I believe, outside Adventist ranks than within.

One of these days I want to write you again and present another angle to this that deeply interests and concerns me. May the Lord abundantly bless you. If you have certain specific names, after you have read the book and feel it would be helpful, I would be glad to receive them.

Faithfully yours,

L. E. Froom
